ARREST MAN ON LARCENY CHARGE

Alleged Nick Dobia Stole Purse Containing $33.50

Nick Dobia was arrested and arraigned before Justice C. O. Jackola this morning charged with larceny. He pled not guilty and demanded an examination which was set for this evening at 7 o'clock.

Dobia is one of the men recently imported into this district, first working at the Kearsarge mine and living in the Kearsarge "bunkhouse." His record there was not such as would call for commendation, and it is understood he was asked to sever his connection with that company and take up his abode elsewhere. It is alleged he visited yesterday in the C. & H. "bunkhouse" and while there relieved one George Ferkas of a pocketbook containing $33.50. The latter claims his purse was taken from his pocket.

Shortly before his arrest on the larceny charge, Dobia appeared as complaining witness in an assault and battery case against Peter Tinko, one of the men living in the Kearsarge "bunkhouse." The latter showed evidences of having come out second best in the encounter, such as it was, when the case was called for hearing in the court of Justice Jackola, however, and was dismissed.

Circuit Court Hearings. Prosecuting Attorney Lucas is preparing for the trial to be taken up next Monday in the Baraga county court of the cases remaining of the original November term Houghton calendar, for which a change of venue was granted shortly after the term opened. There are about fifteen of these cases remaining to be tried, including the so-called Pollock murder case also the case arising out of the murder of a woman on Gay Wilkins, an Alameda supply clerk, early in the strike. The Baraga term will be in session right up to April 6, the date set for the opening of the April term of court for Houghton county.

There are about 120 cases of the January calendar for Houghton county remaining to be tried, but it is expected application will be made for a change of venue to Baraga county, in a large number. If the application is granted, it is probable the cases will be added to the calendar for the next term of court for Baraga county, which is scheduled to begin May 18, for thirty days must elapse from the date change of venue is granted until the trial of the case may be taken up in the new court.

The next term of court for Keweenaw county will begin on June 1, and there are a large number of strike cases to be heard at that time.

DATES ARE DESIGNATED FOR OSCEOLA CAUCUSES

THREE VACANCIES FOR OFFICES OF JUSTICE ARE TO BE FILLED.

Voters in Osceola township will be called upon to elect three justices of the peace. One vacancy is usually all that the voters are called upon to fill, but this year there are two unexpired terms, due to the departure of two of the former justices from the community.

The township board has designated Thursday, March 26 as the date of the caucus to be held in the four precincts of the township, and Friday, March 27 at the Osceola public school, the date and place of the annual township convention. Although little political interest has been noted so far, it is expected there will be no dearth of candidates at the caucus and polls.

Justice J. C. Dunstan of Dollar Bay will be a candidate to succeed himself for the full term. There are vacancies however in the terms of Justice R. R. Rule, who has recently taken up his permanent residence in Detroit and that of Justice Patrick D. Sullivan, who also has left the township. Justice Rule's term would expire in 1916 and that of Justice Sullivan in 1915. No candidates have announced themselves for these vacancies.

Supervisor A. L. Buzan will seek re-election as will Treasurer William Willis, who has just completed his first term. Clerk Thomas Sweeney, one of the most efficient township clerks in the county, Commissioner of Highways, J. T. Beck, overseer of Highways, J. H. Sullivan and William M. Harris, member of the board of review. In view of the excellent record in office made by these various officials, it is expected they will be re-elected without opposition.

FINDS SNARES SET FOR DEER

Warden on Trail of Game Violators Near Gay

Deputy Game Warden John T. MacDonald arrived home today from a trip through the Traverse Bay region and exhibited a deer snare, one of six he confiscated on a deer runway near Gay. The home made device was rather ingenious, indicating a systematic violation of the law. Mr. MacDonald is working diligently in an effort to apprehend the guilty party or parties.

The snare, Mr. MacDonald brought in with him consisted of a piece of stout wire perhaps ten feet long, arranged in the form of a noose, with the free end fastened to a stout tree so that the noose hung just about the height of a deer's head. Near the top of the loop there was ingeniously woven into the main wire, three strands of steel wire, each loop projecting out an inch or more. These individual loops had been pounded down to a sharp edge with a hammer and then tempered, the result being virtually a saw, about a foot long each tooth of which had the keenness of a knife. The inventor evidently figured the noose would fasten itself around the neck of a deer as it sped along the runway, and in its struggles to free itself, the animal would cut its own throat on this knife-like saw.

Mr. MacDonald reports there were evidences that at least one deer had been captured in this manner and probably others for there were six snares in operation.

Other instances of similar violations of the law have come to light recently. Game Warden St. Clair Wilson sprung a bear trap, evidently set for deer, in the Rabbit Bay district near Jacobsville about two weeks ago but fortunately was unharmed. The offender was apprehended, arrested and paid a fine in a Hancock justice court. There have been numerous evidences also of snaring rabbits, this being a violation of the law. Investigations of these offenses now being conducted likely will lead to arrests.

INVENTS R. R. DEVICE.

John A. MacAuley of Calumet has invented and patented a device known as a "cup block," the purpose of which is to hold a railway locomotive stationary, when desired. The "cup" which is designed especially for use on turntables, etc., is attached to the rail and it is claimed for it that no amount of pressure can loosen its grip. The contrivance is very simple and light and undoubtedly will prove practical.
